

IDAHO POTATO PULSE

Brought to you by the Idaho Potato Commission
Website: www.idahopotato.com

For those interested, money is available from the National Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) as part of the Farm Bill. Growers can receive money from the Conservation Stewardship Program (deadline is June 25) and the Energy Conservation and Efficiency Initiative (deadline is June 18).

You can find more information at the following websites:

Conservation Stewardship Program: http://www.id.nrcs.usda.gov/contact/field_contacts.html

Producers who qualify for this program receive 5 year contracts with a payment cap of $40,000/year. Examples of conservation stewardship can be found at the site.

Energy Conservation and Efficiency Initiative: http://www.id.nrcs.usda.gov/programs/energy_initiative.html

You can contact your local NRCS office to learn more. A list of local offices and contact personnel can be found at: http://www.id.nrcs.usda.gov/contact/field_contacts.html
